

The Palais Royal's Cash Business

It Creates an Astonishing and Unlooked-for Sale

The late Mill and Factory Sale created double the usual stocks; nearly halved the usual prices; doubling the usual business. Then—now comes a Grand Clearing Sale with finally reduced prices for broken lots. Tomorrow's sale of $18,325 worth of new Lingerie is an added feature, never dreamed of a few days since. Here's its history: A very successful maker of Shirt Waists grew ambitious and determined to add the making of Undergarments. He started the season with the most expensively made and altogether best Lingerie of the year. That's where his trouble began—it was too expensive. Esthetically and artistically this Lingerie is a grand success; commercially it is a financial failure. And so our Waist Manufacturer goes back to his first love and gives up Lingerie in disgust. The Palais Royal secures the entire stock at less than cost of manufacture, and its patrons are to enjoy the best bargains of a decade, beginning tomorrow morning.

$6 Garments at $2.98

$4 Garments at $1.98

$3 Garments at $1.29

No illustrations of these garments—and no descriptions in words. To write of such lingerie as trimmed with so many yards of laces, embroideries, and ribbons is as much of a description as to describe the world's beauty spots as so much earth, rock, trees, grass, and flowers. As an artist revels in a lovely landscape, so will milady feast her eyes with this lingerie. Such luxury—and for so little. On third floor.

Just a few illustrations of the garments offered at 98c. Critically examine these and the hundreds of other gowns, skirts, corset covers, drawers, and chemises, and you will be able to find very few worth less than $2.50. Milady with refined and cultivated taste will be the most enthusiastic visitor. Milady who has been "caught" with showy but inelegant garments will find object lessons that will prove highly educational and beneficial. So much for the garments at 98c. Note that the lowest price to be asked is 39c—but not one 39c garment will be in the collection.

89c for $1.50 to $2.98 Waists

Last week these Waists were offered in two lots, at 89c and $1.49 for choice. Beginning tomorrow morning the two lots are made into one, at 89c for choice. Early visitors will find garments worth $2.98 and greater number and variety than when they comprised two lots.

Scarce and Wanted, Only 7 1/2c

7 1/2c a Yard—But Not 7 1/2c Quality

Summer girls—the wise ones—long since picked out the prettiest dress materials. The most wanted are now as scarce in the stores as the undesirable are plentiful. There is to be temporary relief tomorrow—3,550 yards of the most wanted and scarce Lawns are to be here in the morning at 7 1/2c instead of 12 1/2c yard. White Madras, worth 18c, for 12c; 48-inch Lawns, worth 35c, for 21c; Mercerized Batiste at 39c instead of 50c.

On second floor, with Waterproof and Perspiration-proof Black Japanese Silks, at 49c instead of 75c yard. Such bargains are picked up now and laid away for future use—they are rarely to be bought for so little, and are certain to be always needed.

Unbroken Match Sets at 12c, 18, 25c, and 50c Yard

This has been our experience and yours—of all job lots of embroideries heretofore on sale this season. An exception will be noted tomorrow that will be a great triumph for the Palais Royal—even if it does come somewhat late.
